

6516204933.txt

I feel that if the broadcast stations can't compete, they should stop broadcasting. Our local "80's station" abruptly changed formats and further pushed me into XM Radio. I will not go back to broadcast, and feel that free competition should exist. Why should anyone be given a protected monopoly? It was taken away from AT&T as well as later from the baby Bells, so why should we protect broadcast radio?